SUPERVISOR COMMENTS

Our last day of our work week proved to be another busy one. Officers were able to respond to the calls for service, and some were able to make a few traffic stops as well. Officers followed up on a previous call of vandalism in which flour was poured into the gas tank of an ex-girlfriend's vehicle. Through the follow-up, officers confirmed the identity of the suspect, as well as uncovered evidence of stalking. The subject was located and arrested for the crimes. Officers then responded to a disturbance at a residence. The caller wanted to remain anonymous, and stated that there was a subject who was publicly intoxicated from the use of nitrous gas. When officers arrived, the subject was actively ingesting the gas, and he showed obvious signs of being intoxicated. He refused orders by the officers to stop, as he stated that since he was on his private property, the police could not arrest him. He was subsequently detained, and found to have prescription pills on his possession. He also had a felony warrant. He was taken to jail.

SUPERVISOR COMMENTS

The shift was at minimum staffing and very busy all evening. An officer stopped a vehicle and noticed the male driver and female passenger switch seats after they stopped. The male was detained and found to have a suspended license for DUI and a restraining order preventing him from having any contact with the female. He was arrested and booked and the vehicle was towed. Officers responded to a found 5-year-old at Donnelly Park. The child was able to show officers where he lived and he was taken home. His father had allowed his adult cousin to take him to the park and the cousin was not monitoring the child properly. CPS was contacted and the report will be routed to the DA for possible child neglect charges on the cousin. Officers responded to an injury accident on Lander Ave, where one of the drivers fled from the accident on foot. He was located and determined to be DUI. He had just left a birthday party for his 12-year-old brother, who he had in the car with him during the collision.
